Record Entries For Musical Festival

Four Brass Bands And a Symphony Orchestra Will Give Volume of Sound on Closing Night.

275 entries received up till Wednesday was the information given by Mrs. J. H. Farmer, energetic secretary of the festival committee, who is pondering on how this large number can be handled in three days.

It indicates the growing importance of this festival, and also appreciation of its good work among the younger people in creating an incentive towards higher attainments in the musical world. Noteworthy also is the fact that a young man, John Pietraszko, whose first instruction was received from local music teachers and who was first heard in public recitals at the musical festival some years ago has been awarded a scholarship to enable him to continue his studies in Warsaw.

Nov. 2-3-4 are the dates, in Columbus hall, and featured among the heavier competitions are the brass bands of Fernie, Kimberley, West Canadian Collieries and Calgary Premier Band. Another entry which will arouse popular interest is the Vulcan Senior Symphony Orchestra, with Miss Beulah Walker as conductress.

High School Athletics Should Be Encouraged

Elks Reported Will Sponsor Midget Hockey Team—Parents Urged to Give Support to Junior Activities.

John McDonald, of the schools staff, stated to The Journal it is intended to build up basketball, hockey and field track teams among high and public pupils, and points out that it requires the co-operation of parents so that boys and girls will be able to enter wholeheartedly into school sports.

To develop a healthy interest in these activities, he states it is necessary they should start when young, as they take a much keener interest as they grow older, and school sports help to make a more complete life and are beneficial in many ways from a health standpoint.

Printers Code of Prices and Ethics

In May 1935 a price code was submitted to the department of trade and industry by a committee representing the master printers of Calgary and Edmonton, in conjunction with representatives of Alberta weekly publishers. This code was put into effect by the present government on Oct. 15, announced Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary.

This price list will be followed by The Journal in common with other commercial offices. It provides for fair prices and fair wages and working hours.

Funeral of Mrs. Robert Carson in Calgary

Services for Mrs. Robert Carson (formerly Marjorie Powell) were held on Friday at Shaver & Armstrong's funeral home, Calgary, with immediate relatives and friends present. The Rev. Mr. Pocock, of Okotoks, an old friend of the family when they lived in Manitoulin Island, conducted the services. Burial was in Burnside cemetery.

Pall bearers were W. L. Rippon, H. C. McBurney, Norman McAuley, of Coleman, Mr. Gilliland and Mr. Phillips, representing the Imperial Bank, and Carl Cook, formerly of Taber.

Deceased was born in Cayuga, Ont., 41 years ago. Her parents moved to Little Current, Manitoulin Island, when she was quite young, and later they came west, living for a number of years in Taber, and for two years in Camrose. It was in 1920 the family moved to Coleman, and the wedding of Mr. Carson and Marjorie Powell took place here at which Rev. D. K. Allan, of St. Paul's church, officiated. They made Brandon their home, where Mr. Carson was on the staff of the Imperial bank, though for a number of years he was on the inspection service of the bank.

Last summer they visited friends here, and it was not until later this year that illness of a serious nature developed, when diagnosis of specialists in Winnipeg revealed she was suffering from sclerosis of the liver, holding practically no hope of effecting a cure. Her father, Mr. Powell, spent some time in Brandon with her and had left only a day or so previously for Calgary, not expecting the end to come so suddenly.

Mrs. Rippon and Mrs. Norman McAuley accompanied their husbands to Calgary to attend the funeral. Sympathy of Coleman friends is extended to Mr. G. R. Powell and Ross in their bereavement.

Ready For Bigger Business

J. M. Chalmers' jewelry store has been given an attractive interior appearance by a thorough painting and re-decorating, and in addition the feminine touch has been given by Miss Mae Bell, the show cases being particularly attractive with a fine stock of jewelry, plated cutlery and ornaments of artistic design. New floor coverings also add to the neat appearance, and with additions to the stock which will be on sale for the Christmas trade, this store should prove a popular place for gift purchases. It is also headquarters for the famous Bulova watches.

Santa Claus—or at least his picture—is barred from coverings of liquor sold in Ohio. The state board of liquor control followed similar boards in Michigan and Pennsylvania by ruling that distillers must not place likenesses of the Christmas figure on their wrappings.

Bellevue Band Played Fine Program

Assisted by Outstanding Vocal and Instrumental Talent of Pass Towns.

West Canadian Collieries Band under the leadership of Mr. G. W. Goodwin, gave a program of spirited selections in the Community hall on Sunday evening. Assisting artists were from Bellevue, eight lady and gentlemen singers giving a very fine selection with Mrs. Upton of Bellevue as accompanist. Mr. W. E. Moser's string quartette also gave two selections in splendid style. The players were W. H. Moser, George Kerr, L. Fisher and Frank Hosok. Clarinet duets were given by Messrs Hosok and Heidel, and a vocal solo by a member of the band.

The concert was worthy of a much larger audience, and Bellevue is to be commended in having such a group of musicians whose selections were of an exceptionally good type, including marches and fantasias, their playing of the well-known selection, "Sons of the Sea," and the closing selection, a spirited march, "Quarterdeck," being exceptionally good.

Hockey Schedule and League Affiliations Being Discussed

Possibility of Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Coleman Forming League.

The annual meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Hockey League will be held in the Marquis hotel on Sunday when representatives of the various teams will be present. Representing Coleman will be W. L. Rippon, secretary of the local club, F. G. Creighton and R. F. Barnes, president and secretary of the league, and H. C. McBurney, a member of the league executive, will also be present.

Medicine Hat Tigers, a junior team who played against the local juniors last year in the playoffs, will seek entrance into this league. While the purpose behind this is to give them stiff opposition to prepare them for their own junior division, already ballyhoo has started laying claim to the fact that the Tigers will give the Canadians stiff opposition. To those who have seen this team in action such claims are the height of foolishness and it would only be a farce to pit them against the locals with anything at stake.

Lethbridge has built up a strong team and are aspiring for senior recognition. Medicine Hat Monarchs, Blairmore and Bellevue are unknown quantities in their line-ups for the coming season.

While it is the earnest hope of all hockey fans that a league be formed, the local executive would be well advised to prepare a schedule of strong exhibition games. Gates at last year's games should have taught them a lesson.

Navy League Does Valuable Work

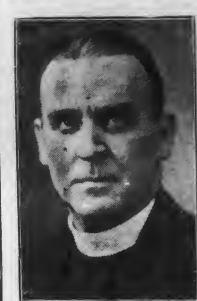

Rallying to support the navy league of Canada in its work of assisting widows and orphans of men of the Merchant Marine and their dependents; maintaining sailors' homes and institutions, etc. in our large Canadian ports from coast to coast and looking after the welfare of the seamen when ashore; training boys and young men and helping to make better Canadian citizens of them. Coleman citizens subscribed $20.50 to this cause in a recent campaign here conducted by Fred Cooke, organizer of the Alberta Division.

Registration at Pincher Creek

Registration of citizens in Pincher Creek constituency have been completed, and according to figures given out by local officials totaled 1744. Included were 463 farmers and 32 retailers.

The total vote in the riding at the last Provincial elections was 2347, the registration therefore amounting to 74.31 per cent. The Social Credit vote last August was 1205, or 51.38 per cent of the total vote.—Pincher Creek Echo.

Fernie Trimmed Coleman in Joyce Benefit Game

Closing Game of Season Poorly Attended—Martin and Wasnock Were Star Players for Fernie.

A benefit football game in aid of Jimmy Joyce was played between Fernie and Coleman at the local ground on Sunday, the locals losing out by a 3-0 score. A very poor crowd was on hand to witness the game which was played in cold weather. The Fernie club, which should have played here three weeks ago in a cup-tie and defaulted owing to refereeing difficulties, proved their sportsmanship by giving their services and absorbing all transportation expenses estimated at thirty-five dollars.

Fernie proved the better team and during the first half succeeded in taking a 2-0 lead through goals by W. Martin. They increased this lead in the second when S. Wasnock shot into an empty net. Oakley in the Fernie net was never seriously threatened and had an easy time in gaining his shut-out.

New Uses For Old Products

The agricultural depression which has contracted the farmers' pocket books in Western Canada almost to the vanishing point in the past few years may be attributed to two main causes—a drought cycle and an undiscoverable surplus stock of wheat of great proportions, the inheritance of the bountiful harvest of 1923, followed by a fair average crop the succeeding year.

The drought was a visitation of Nature itself, over which mankind could have little or no control, and if this had been the sole cause of an attenuated agricultural bank account the effects of the depression would not have been nearly so severe in Western Canada as they have been, for during the era of gloom the drought area shifted its local somewhat each year though, it is also true, that there are some areas which have sustained the full impact for the entire period.

Over the entire depression period, however, many areas which have experienced drought have reaped some harvests, varying widely in degree, and had good prices for wheat, prevailed, many farmers over large tracts would have reaped sufficient return to carry them through without aid or with comparatively little assistance.

Unfortunately however, this was not the case and the average comparatively low price of farm products and particularly wheat, at times far below the cost of production, was as much a factor in creating conditions which have necessitated debt adjustment on a wide scale as was the lack of moisture and its resultant duststorms and scourge of insect pests.

Dry periods undoubtedly will come again and little can be done to circumvent their ill effects in the production and yields beyond perhaps a small measure of conservation, but the lesson of the six year period will have been lost unless some consideration is given to the necessity and wisdom of devising some measures to obviate, or at least reduce, the hazards of a repetition of prices below the cost of production.

There are several directions in which concentration on this problem might well be directed, apart from the erstwhile popular proposal to curtail production. There is the matter, for instance, of efforts to create consumer demand in existing markets for improved and more tasty products of the grain fields, to which reference has previously been made in these columns, and serious consideration might well be given to the possibilities of converting products of the field to industrial uses in the domestic market.

Henry Ford demonstrated that much might be done to make agricultural products available to industry when his experiments revealed that by-products of the soy bean make excellent material for construction of certain automobile parts and accessories, and, along these lines, experiment in the conversion of grains into alcohol for industrial use and on a commercially feasible basis should be pushed with vigor in the laboratories.

So far the conversion of grain into industrial alcohol has not proved a commercial success, but a fractional advance in the price of gasoline or a reduction of a few cents in the cost of production of alcohol from such source would place it in the field of a competitive fuel with gasoline, a commodity which is used in large quantities by the farmers themselves as well as other consumers in Western Canada.

That greater use of alcohol as a fuel is inevitable in the not far distant future is the conclusion of the "Pennsylvania Farmer" which, in a recent issue had the following to say on the subject:

"The farmer has a double interest in liquid fuels. He is now a leading consumer; he may some day be an important producer. Alcohol made from farm crops can be mixed with gasoline to make a fuel which will run a combustion engine. Since the supply of petroleum cannot last forever a wider use of alcohol as a fuel is inevitable. It is being hastened by a score of foreign countries by legislation requiring, by taxation or otherwise, a mixture of alcohol with gasoline.

"Without such government intervention the blending does not occur, because gallon for gallon, gasoline is cheaper and better than alcohol. Under present conditions the effect of this legislation is to subsidize the producer of alcohol at the expense of the consumer of fuel. When producer and consumer is the same fellow it is doubtful if he wants this subsidy.

"In our country the farmer consumes a fourth of the gasoline used. If the price were raised four or five cents a gallon, the extra cost would cut the profits from corn, sugar cane, potatoes, etc., that went into alcohol, while the farmer who grew no alcohol-producing crops would be dealt with unfairly.

"Until gasoline prices advance materially it would appear that hopes for a wider use of alcohol as fuel lie in research rather than in legislation. When alcohol can be made cheaper or better than gasoline, no law will be needed to promote its use, and until then any such law is of questionable value to farmers."

Extracting Precious Metals

A New Science In The Mining World To Assist Operators

"Mineralography," a new science in the mining world designed to assist mining operators in their work of extracting precious metals, was described and demonstrated to delegates of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy meeting at Vancouver.

In a darkened room pictures of hiding places of particles of gold among base minerals were shown, magnified many times, while Dr. M. E. Haycock, of the Dominion Department of mines, and Dr. H. V. Warren, of the University of British Columbia, stood in the background and described the new science.

Specialty constructed instruments were used to polish ore specimens to the finest surface possible and these are magnified many times by powerful glasses for scientific study.

In this way, the two doctors said, the new science has already become of great assistance to the mining industry and promises to become still more valuable in determining the best treatment for gold extraction and mineral separation generally.

SELECTED RECIPES

ALMOND MERINGUE CAKE

1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
4 eggs
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 cup cornstarch
4 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
1/2 cup milk

1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup almonds blanched and shredded

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, beating all the time. Add the well beaten yolks, stir together three times flour, cornstarch and baking powder, add to butter mixture alternately with the milk. Add almonds, then the stiffly beaten whites of eggs.

Turn into a buttered 9-inch square pan about two inches deep and cover with the almonds and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Just soon as the meringue on cake begins to turn color cover with thick brown paper, as when finished baking the meringue should be a very delicate brown.

Claims World Undermined

Australian Specialist Thinks More Protective Foods Should Be Produced

The world is undermined, F. L. McDougall, Australian agricultural specialist, said in a report to the biennial general assembly of the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

Many world agricultural problems would be solved, he said, if certain nations would increase their production of "protective foods" instead of concentrating on high wheat yields.

"Satisfactory human diet must contain sufficient quantities of the kinds of food that provide these hitherto obscure elements in nutrition," the Australian said, explaining "the foods particularly valuable in this respect are milk, cheese, butter, fresh fruit and vegetables, eggs, fish and meat."

Coronation Oath

May Be Slightly Changed To Comply With Statute Of Westminster

When the king takes the coronation oath at Westminster Abbey next May 12 he may use a form of words different from that of his predecessors.

It was made known the oath has been slightly altered in order to comply with the provisions of the statute of Westminster, which changed the status of the dominions.

The new wording, evolved after consultation between ecclesiastical and constitutional authorities, will not be revealed until the full program for the coronation is issued. It is understood the coronation service will be shorter than at the coronation of King George V, because of the absence of a queen consort.

Owing To Painful Rheumatism

This woman suffered from rheumatism in her back, arms and legs. For two months she endured this painful condition, then, like many another sufferer, she decided to try Kruschen Salts.

"About fifteen months ago I had rheumatism in my arms, back and legs. The pains in my arms and back after getting warm in bed were almost unbearable. I was like that for two months, and could not reach above my head. I read so much about Kruschen Salts that I thought I would try them and avoid to say that for more than a year I have not had the slightest return of my rheumatism."

(Mrs.) H.E. The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently due to deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. Kruschen Salts assist in stimulating the internal organ to healthy, regular activity, and help them to get rid of this excess uric acid.

British Crouses

Government Still Checking Up On Estate Left By Sir John Ellerman

For three years, a small army of government clerks has been checking up the estate left by Sir John Ellerman, little-known "richest man in England's history"—and they are still hard at it.

His Majesty's government can well afford the clerks' time. It expects to collect nearly £20,000,000 (about $100,000,000), or 50 per cent, of the huge fortune, which keeps on growing.

Sir John, ship-owner, industrialist and real estate magnate, died in 1933 at the age of 71. His estate was then valued at £17,238,977 (about $86,118,855) "as far as can be ascertained."

But only recently it was revalued at £36,484,994 (about $183,424,970), and even at that figure, additional property including large foreign interests was not included.

Now investigators have recovered more and more holdings. The final figure is expected to be about £50,000,000, or approximately $250,000,000. Exactly half of that goes to the government.

The British crouses left the bulk of his fortune to his son, the present Sir John Ellerman, now 27.

Already £14,600,000 has been turned over to the treasury in death duties—by far the largest sum the inland revenue department ever received from one estate. In addition, it is estimated that during his lifetime Sir John paid at least £20,000,000 in income tax and super-tax.

Strange Bequest

Two Sisters In England To Receive $600 A Month If They Keep Single

Two Buxton sisters of Harrogate, Eng., both in their 70's, will have an income of £120 ($600) a month if men keep away from their house.

Their brother, William Henry Baxter, died at the age of 86, leaving an estate of more than £250,000 ($1,250,000). He left them the monthly allowance on condition they do not allow any male person to reside in the house.

The sisters are Georgina Todd Baxter, 75, and Lily Thorman Baxter, 76.

Said Miss Todd: "I am afraid he was very jealous of other men when we were concerned. He objected to us speaking even to the gardener. Though he was very close at home with money he would occupy the best suite in the best hotels in London."

Although British television has now reached the point of efficiency whereby daily programs are broadcast from Alexandra Palace, the day apparently still is distant when a citizen will be able to enjoy a sport event from the depths of an arm chair.

At the present stage of development nothing can be televised more than 1,000 yards from a transmitting apparatus at Alexandra.

The owners' staff recently showed Archie Compton, British golf pro, giving a lesson to a pupil on a miniature course at Alexandra and easily followed the flight of the ball.

Saskatchewan Woman Has Used Two Kitchen Utensils 54 Years

Back in the days when hardware was hardware, or as the old-timer says: "They made things to last," Mrs. C. A. Jaques, of Brainerd, Sask., has still a can opener and a pancake turner. That was in 1882 at the store of Henderson and Sons at Collingwood, Ontario.

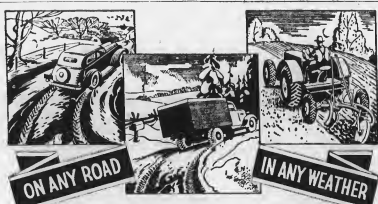

The two kitchen utensils have never been out of the possession of Mrs. Jaques and she has used them on every possible occasion during the past 54 years.

Mrs. Jaques is the wife of Capt. C. A. Jaques, one of the old time captains on lake boats plying the Georgian Bay, where, according to the captain "storms were storms."

Captain and Mrs. Jaques are the parents of one of Canada's well known authors, Mrs. Edna Jamieson, better known as Miss Edna Jaques.

Nineteen Lives Lost When Canadian Vessel Founders In Lake Erie

Cleveland.—Eighteen crew members and a woman passenger of the Sand Merchant, a Canadian craft, were drowned when the 252-foot sand-sucker rolled over and sank in a 50-mile gale that swept across treacherous Lake Erie, 14 miles northwest of Cleveland, on Saturday night.

Many of the sailors desperately clung to two capsize lifeboats for hours before sliding off to their death. Seven men were rescued at about 8 a.m. Sunday by two freighters en route to Lake Erie ports. The tragedy occurred as the Toronto-owned vessel was caught in a terrific storm.

Jack Meuse, repairman, Yarmouth, N.S.; William Gifford, crane operator, Newcastle, N.B.; Fred Morris, crane operator, Windsor, Ont., and Martin White, second engineer, Pontonville, N.S., were picked up by the Bessemer and Marquette No. 2 and brought to Lutheran hospital here. They were suffering from exposure and White's condition was described as serious. Meuse was later released from hospital and taken to a hotel, Gifford, who suffered least from the 10 hours of exposure, said the woman on the boat was the wife of the first mate. She had boarded the boat at Windsor for a short trip.

Gifford said most of the crew were thrown into the lake as the boat rolled over. They swam to the lifeboats which capsized immediately. One by one they slid into the lake. At dawn when the two freighters arrived, only eight were left.

It began to blow shortly after 4 p.m. Saturday. The Sand Merchant had picked up a load of sand at Point Pelee, Ont., for Cleveland. It left Point Pelee shortly after 2 p.m.

Capt. Graham MacLellan peered through bloodshot eyes as he told his story.

"It was the most terrible night that you could possibly imagine," he said. "The sight of those poor fellows slipping off during the long hours will always be on my memory. They just appeared to become tired and sleepy and the next thing they were gone without a word."

"There were seven of us on the boat after the Sand Merchant went down, but there were but three of us to tell of it. I owe my life to these two boys here. I was they who hauled me back aboard the lifeboat several times when the waves had washed me into the water."

Capt. MacLellan pointed to John L. Idson, deckhand, of Fort William, Ont., and Hermas Dault, crane operator, of Victoria Harbor.

Dault saw his brother, Armois, slip off the same lifeboat to his death. He had tried to hold him for four hours, but the strain was too much.

Build New Churches

Despite Drought Conditions, Spiritual Advancement Shown In West

Montreal.—Despite the physical hardships indicated by continued drought, western Canada showed remarkable spiritual advancement, Rev. W. C. Smalley, of Edmonton, told the 47th annual meeting of Eastern Ontario and Quebec Women's Home Baptist Missionary Society.

The drought area was greater this year and hardship increased, the speaker said, but Canadians in the prairie provinces have built 24 new churches since 1930.

Over Ten Thousand Persons Receive War Veterans' Pensions

Ottawa.—More than 10,000 persons in Canada are receiving the war veterans' allowance, with applications pouring in to the board, it was learned here. Due to misapprehension on the part of innumerable servicemen who are under the impression the age limit was reduced at the last session of parliament from 60 to 55 years, applicants have increased from 300 in January to more than 1,000 in July, officials said.

Heretofore the act provided for two classes of veterans, it was explained. One was the person who had reached the age of 60; the other was the man who, through physical or mental disability, was permanently unemployable, regardless of age.

Disorders In India

Trouble Between Hindus And Moslems Threatens To Spread

Bombay.—Religious disorders between Hindus and Moslems threatened to spread after 13 had been killed in the Byculla district of this city.

Three British police inspectors and five constables were among the 140 wounded during the fighting, which broke out when construction of a Hindu temple was started near the site of a Moslem mosque.

Hundreds of enraged zealots threw themselves into the fighting. Eight Hindus and five Moslems were killed in the first clashes, but it was feared further deaths would result if the racial warfare spread to other districts.

Police reinforcements were sent to the scene as soon as the fighting began. A ban against carrying arms was imposed on the district by the authorities, who reportedly were prepared to call in troops should the fighting assume serious proportions.

Both Moslem and Hindu leaders had feared trouble as soon as work was started on the Hindu temple. They conferred for several days without reaching any agreement and construction was started.

Crowds of excited Hindus and Moslems soon gathered. Several of the more demonstrative started throwing stones at the fight was on.

Panic gripped the entire sector as it became evident the fighting could not quickly be stopped. Merchants hastily closed their shops, non-combatants fled the streets under a hail of missiles.

For State Medicine

Proposal To Place Plan Before Saskatchewan Legislature

Saskatoon.—Adoption of a constitution, election of officers and a proposal to place a practical scheme of state medicine before the next session of the Saskatchewan legislature, emerged from the meeting of the Saskatchewan State Hospital and Medicine League.

Dr. S. E. Moore, of Regina, was elected president of the newly-formed league, which has as its objective the promotion of socialization of the medical structure of the province, to fabricate, compile and distribute information derived from worldwide sources to the public, and to assist the government to promote state medicine.

Alderman C. L. Dent, of Prince Albert, who has served as provincial president since April, was chosen vice-president of the league.

A slate of five directors chosen comprised: L. J. Waine, of Prince Albert; Rev. W. G. Brown, former moderator of the Presbyterian church, and Frank Eliason, U.F.C. secretary, of Saskatoon; Reeve M. S. Anderson, of Bulyea, and J. R. Near, president of the Rural Municipalities' Association, of Pinkham. The directorate board was given power to add two women directors to its number.

Ready To Sign Agreement

Tokyo.—Foreign Minister Hachiro Arima instructed Shigeru Yoshida, Japanese ambassador to London, to sign a new agreement with Great Britain, the United States, France and Italy retaining part four of the London naval treaty limiting and humanizing the use of submarines.

No Disturbances

British Fascists Hold Meeting In London Without Disorder

London.—The British Union of Fascists, with Sir Oswald Mosley present, held a meeting in Victoria park square, on the edge of the east-end Jewish quarter. There were no disturbances, however, except for one scuffle which resulted in two arrests.

Speaking in another part of London Alfred Duff Cooper, secretary of state for war, said "the majority of Englishmen have no sympathy with red Communism or black Fascism."

"Steps must be taken to see that order—the greatest gift a government can give—is observed," he declared.

Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for defence co-ordination, speaking at Watford, said "these Fascists tell us that they are fighting against the Communists, but the people who are making Communists today are Sir Oswald Mosley and his friends."

"The government are compelled to consider whether measures are not necessary to restrict liberties because these people abuse them," Sir Thomas added.

Heavy Rains In States

Hindering Fall Farm Work In Some Drouth Sections

Washington.—Heavy rains now are hindering fall farm operations in some sections of the United States laid waste by lack of moisture a few months ago.

In its weekly crop report, the weather bureau said that recent downpours were delaying the seeding of winter grains, halting the husking of corn, impeding the harvest of potatoes, beans and sugar beets, and retarding the picking and ginning of the cotton crop.

"The top soil has become too wet for working in considerable sections of the interior," the bureau reported, "especially in much of the northern Ohio valley, the central Mississippi valley and the lower great plains."

National Defence

Developments In Alberta Will Be Appropriate, Says Minister

Edmonton.—Edmonton as a "reserve supply base" in the government's scheme of national defence was envisioned by Hon. Ian A. MacKenzie, minister of national defence, when interviewed. He passed through Edmonton en route to Ottawa from Vancouver after a tour of the west.

"Developments in Alberta will be appropriate to the province's position behind the mountain ramparts," said the minister.

No Lives Lost

Ten Trans-Atlantic Flights This Year Without Loss Of Life

New York.—This is a comeback year for trans-Atlantic flying.

Ten aeroplane flights have been made across the tossing north Atlantic—more than in any other year. Not a life has been lost, in bright contrast to the tragic history that saw 26 perish in the nine preceding years.

Should Be Senator

Hon. Howard Ferguson Believes London High Commissioner Should Be Hold Office

Toronto.—Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, former Canadian high commissioner in London, addressing a luncheon of the Women's Press Club here suggested the commissioner should be created a member of the Canadian senate so he might have a public forum.

"It is a great handicap to the high commissioner that he has no public forum to discuss affairs concerned with the high commissioner," said Mr. Ferguson. "When he is in Canada he has to go to some country fair or similar place to get a forum."

"I would like to see the present government appoint Hon. Vincent Massey (present commissioner) a senator. Then when he comes to Canada there would be a public forum from which he could speak."

"Nobody can say I am looking for a senatorship, because I don't suppose I shall be high commissioner again. But other high commissioners have felt the same way about it as I do."

Ontario Contributions

Two Carloads Of Provisions Sent To Saskatchewan Points

Brantford, Ont.—A carload of food and provisions has left here for Troascha, Sask., the gift of congregations of all churches in Brantford and Brant county to drouth-stricken farmers and villagers of the Troascha district threatened with severe hardship this winter.

The car was the first of two to go from this city and county. The second is expected to leave for Pangman, Sask. The first carload consisted of 500 bags of potatoes, 60 bags of cabbages, 40 bags of onions, 200 pounds of honey, 200 pounds of flour, 200 pounds of sugar, 60 bushels of apples, 30 bags of turnips, eight bags of beans, 200 cans of pork and beans, peas, corn, tomatoes, beans and other foodstuffs and a number of pumpkins, squash, beets, eggplants and tomatoes.

Federal Housing Repair Plan To Be Put Into Operation At Once

Ottawa.—Immediate initiation of the Dominion government and chartered banks' co-operative scheme to assist a $50,000,000 housing repair and modernization program, was announced here. Arrangements have been completed whereby owners will be enabled to easily negotiate property rehabilitation loans up to a maximum of $2,000 at a total interest cost of 6.32 per cent. over a one-year period.

Announcement was made by Finance Minister Charles Dunning and Arthur B. Purvis, chairman of the national commission on employment and relief which formulated the plan, that this program, tentatively announced by Prime Minister King some weeks ago, would be launched at once instead of waiting for passage of the necessary legislation.

Property owners in good standing will be enabled to negotiate loans for rehabilitation purposes without security or endorsements, the federal treasury guaranteeing the banks against 15 per cent. of the loss on an aggregate total of $50,000,000.

The discount rate will be 3 1/2 per cent. which works out at an effective rate to the borrower of 6.32 per cent. if he pays back in 12 monthly instalments. This, Mr. Dunning said, was about half the interest cost of ordinary instalment buying and represented a comparatively low return to the banks in view of the handling expenses.

Such a building program, Mr. Purvis said, would involve about 85 per cent. labor factor and should prove a great impetus to the building trades. Hope was expressed by Mr. Dunning and Mr. Purvis that all organizations throughout the Dominion would get behind the scheme and work toward its success.

It will be the understanding, Mr. Purvis said, that municipalities will agree not to tax the improvements to properties to be made under the scheme. He intimated if it were found any municipalities attempted to increase the assessment because of improvements made through these loans the scheme would be made ineffective in that particular jurisdiction.

General conditions which the lending institutions will have to meet to obtain the government guarantee are as follows:

1. Loans are to be made to owners of residential property (including farm houses) for repairs, alterations and additions including built-in equipment.
2. Loans shall not exceed $2,000 in amount on any single property. More than one loan may be made on a single property if the aggregate amount does not exceed $2,000.
3. Loans are to be repaid in equal monthly instalments or in suitable instalments for such other periods as may be necessary to fit the conditions of the individual borrower.
4. The maximum charge for the loans shall be 3 1/2 per cent. discount for a one-year loan repayable in equal monthly instalments and proportionate rates for other periods.
5. No service or insurance charges or any additional charges of any kind may be made except certain stipulated penalties for arrears.

6. No endorsements or other security will be required.

It may take about two weeks before active operations can be commenced. A little time will be required for banks to provide necessary forms and to instruct local managers of all their branches. Prospective borrowers should make application to their local bank.

Former Lieutenant-Governor

Dr. William Egbert Of Calgary Dies In Hospital

Calgary.—Dr. William Egbert, former lieutenant-governor of Alberta, died in hospital here. He was 79 years of age.

A resident of Calgary since 1904, Dr. Egbert was appointed lieutenant-governor in 1925, retiring in 1930 to resume his medical practice here.

A son, W. Gordon Egbert, K.C., and a daughter, Mrs. Neil McKelvie, survive. Mrs. Egbert predeceased him in February of this year.

In ill health for many months, Dr. Egbert's death brought to a close a life that was filled with many services. In addition to practicing medicine, he was actively engaged at various times in civic and provincial politics, in the board of trade and the militia. From 1917 to 1925, he was president of the Alberta Provincial-Federal Liberal Association; president of the Calgary board of trade in 1918, and was a former city alderman.

Born in the county of Welland, Ontario, he received his early education at the Dunnville public and high schools and prepared for his medical career at the University of Toronto medical school and Victoria University, from where he graduated in 1890. His first practice was in Melbourne, Ont.

Spirit Of McGill

Reflected In Graduates Who Accepted Responsibility

Montreal.—The spirit of McGill University was reflected in graduates who accepted responsibility in the task of establishing "an ultimate harmony of existence," W. E. Gladstone Murray said at a luncheon in his honor. Speaking before the McGill graduates' society, the newly-appointed head of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation said he saw a need for more general diffusion of the spirit of McGill. "Those who have the spirit have a sense of stewardship and a sense of responsibility," he added. Some qualities gained at the university included a sense of detachment, ability to look forward and backward and a sense of honor.

Belgium Would Stand Alone In Defence Of Her Frontiers

Brussels.—Official circles interpreted the "neutrality" speech of King Leopold as meaning Belgium would stand alone in the defence of her frontiers and would abrogate all pacts pledging her to go to the military aid of other nations.

Informed circles expressed belief the king's speech before the cabinet meant parliament would be urged to:

1. Withdraw from the French mutual assistance pact of 1920.
2. Withdraw from the Locarno pact. (The other signatories are Germany, Italy, Britain and France.)

The diplomatic consensus of opinion was such actions would return Belgium to her pre-war neutrality position, with added military defence for the country's German frontier.

The Belgian parliament was summoned for extraordinary session Oct. 27.

"Reoccupation of the Rhineland, violating the Locarno accord, placed us back in the international position we held before the war," he said. "Our geographic situation condemns us to maintain a military machine to dissuade any neighbor whatsoever from using our territory to attack another state."

"Foreign policy must not propose," he warned, "to prepare for a more or less victorious war following a coalition but to avert war from our territory."

Belgium, by dissuading any neighboring power from using its territory as an avenue of attack, would benefit the peace of western Europe and automatically earn the "respect and eventual aid of all countries interested in peace," the king continued.

Belgium "will see itself completely invaded and immediately pillaged" at the outset of any future war, unless it prepares adequate defences, Leopold said.

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

H. T. Halliwell, Proprietor.
Published Every Thursday at Coleman, Alberta. Membership in Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and Alberta Div. C.W.N.A.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1936

NOTES AND COMMENTS

WEEKLY newspapers of Alberta, many of which come to this office, provide a very interesting study and furnish a true picture of the communities in which they are published.
Presumably The Journal is looked upon in a similar manner by those offices which receive it on their exchange lists.

THE reason this thought comes to mind is that recently we received outstanding issues of two weekly newspapers —special shopping editions of the Red Deer Advocate and the Hanna Herald. The Advocate published 10,000 copies of a 22 page paper, 8 columns wide, in fact it was of the same proportions, as a city daily. The Hanna Herald, though not as large, was an outstanding edition. Though such editions reflect credit on the enterprise and resourcefulness of the publishers and their staffs, they also indicate heartily co-operation on the part of merchants who buy the advertising space. They in turn for their co-operation with the local newspaper office, must receive good returns in increased business and the promotion of goodwill among their customers. A progressive weekly newspaper is a reflection of a progressive community. Business men who value the local paper as a community asset show their appreciation by using its advertising columns, for it fills a double purpose—it promotes goodwill which is a vital asset in developing local business.

CONTINUED unjustified attacks on Alberta newspapers by our premier arouses a protest which is timely. This unscrupulous campaign over the radio is done with the express purpose of poisoning the public mind and deluding those who are simple enough to believe all Mr. Aberhart belches forth in oratorical explosions. One dislikes having to engage in a continual wrangling over such matters, but he cannot remain silent under the slanderous statements which have been all too common against those who will not bow the knee to him and whom some of his lieutenants tell the people is a man chosen of God. Such political propaganda is nauseating to those who have a higher regard of ethics and Christian principles than playing them up as a subterfuge to retain political support. It is really dragging religion in the mire.

HOWEVER, the bright sunshine prevailing as this is written, bids us look on life in its rosiest hues, and reminds us that no matter what unsound policies may be promulgated, they cannot endure any more than as a spell of unpleasant weather. Common sense and sound principles eventually prevail, and a surer foundation replaces the props of insecurity. That this will be the natural consequence in Alberta after all the ballyhoo has been silenced we have not the slightest doubt, for right will prevail, and truth must win.

AN OBJECTIVE worth while is that of the Canadian Legion and the Women's Auxiliary to build a club worthy of their organization. It would be an asset to the community, and will require a considerable sum of money, about $15,000 if present plans mature. With a capable and energetic executive, this should be accomplished, especially in a community of the size of Coleman, and with such a large percentage of ex service men. Such a club could be of service in many ways. It might be a fostering centre for many local activities, especially in the field of sports and athletics among the younger people. Such a project should receive general support from business men as well as from all ex-service men who take pride in the principles and traditions for which the Canadian Legion stands.

FROM the office window we see the new school building taking shape. Some youthful scholars have sent in names in the contest for naming the school, but there should be many more entries before the end of the month. Another thought is that there should be an official corner-stone laying, with the names of the board, coins of the realm, copies of the local newspaper and other data of interest sealed in the stone. Coleman has reason to be proud of local enterprise, of raising the money locally to build the school, of having a contractor capable of completing the work in every detail.
Why shouldn't we give ourselves a pat on the back and make a little spread in honor of the occasion.

The Way to the Exit

Mike was going to Dublin for the first time, and his friend Pat was giving him a few hints on what to do and where to go in the big city.

"What do I do when I go to the Zoo?" asked Mike.

"You be careful about the Zoo," advised Pat. "You'll see feline animals if you follow the words, 'To the lions' or 'To the elephants,' but take no notice of the one 'To the exit,' Mike, it's a fraud, and it's outside I found myself when I went to look at it."—Dublin Evening Mail.

Summed Up

The president of one of New York's colleges was delivering his baccalaureate. In the audience were an elderly man and woman, obviously foreigners, and having heavy going as they listened to prey address the class of which their son, Giuseppe, was a member.

"What he say?" finally demanded the mother, her brow knitted.
"Who?" asked the father sleepily.
"The beega fella in black robes;
what he say?" asked the mother.
"He say school is out," replied the father, simply.—New York Sun.

MUSIC FESTIVAL ADJUDICATOR
VERNON BARFORD, M.A., A.A.G.O.

Vernon Barford, English by birth, received the groundwork of his musical education as a chorister in Worcester Cathedral. At the age of seventeen he won an organ scholarship at Oxford University and went into residence there for a year.

Coming to Canada in 1895, he was for four and a half years organist and choir-master of the Pro-Cathedral at Qu'Appelle. In 1900 he was appointed organist and choir-master of All Saints, Edmonton, and has completed nearly thirty-seven years' service at that church—now the Cathedral.

His interests have included practically all branches of musical activity; in 1904 he organized the Edmonton Operatic Society and, during the following years, produced over a dozen of the best known comic operas and musical comedies. He was, for several seasons, conductor of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra and, for five years had charge of the Edmonton Mendelssohn Choir. With this body of singers and various festival choruses he has produced a large number of major secular works with chorus and orchestra numbering from a hundred and fifty to three hundred performers.

He was one of those responsible for the organization of the first Provincial Musical Competition Festival—that having been held in the spring of 1908.

During the past four years he has given several series of lecture-recitals over the air from the University studios—nearly seventy lectures in all—and has also broadcasted three series of "singing lessons" specially for the benefit of rural school teachers preparing pupils for the various district competitive festivals.

A few years ago the Senate of the University of Alberta, in recognition of his outstanding work in the realm of music, conferred on him the degree of Master in Arts, honoris causa.

As an adjudicator Mr. Barford has had wide experience; he has twice acted at Blairmore, in 1926 and 1927, and other important engagements have included festivals at Grand Prairie, Peace River, Drumheller and in the Okanagan Valley.

Householders are reminded to see that peddlers have a license when trying to sell from door to door. It is a guarantee of their good faith if they have. Many come to town, and make a clean-up of orders and get away without notifying the police. There is no protection to the householder if complaints arise from dealing with peddlers selling without a license.

Here and There

Famous officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Sir John A. Macdonald, Prime Minister of Canada, arrived at Revelstoke recently and held a series of historic meetings. Among them were Donald A. Smith, George Stephen, James J. Hill, Van Horne and Shannahan, names associated for the past half century with the construction of Canada's first transcontinental railway. The party actually comprised a group of film players portraying the historic characters in the tense boardroom sequence of "The Great Barrier", Gaumont British picture depicting the strenuous railway construction days fifty years ago.

Says Gene Sarazen, one time world's champion golfer, writing of the Banff Springs Hotel course at the famous resort in the Rockies:—"That course of Banff is everything you said. Miss Helen Hicks and I played it against two guests at the hotel and we were beaten. With a huge gallery it may seem funny to hear we simply couldn't keep our minds on the game—the scenery was simply too much."

The first 1937 world cruise to set out from New York will be the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain which will sail January 9 for a voyage of 125 days, covering 30,000 miles and visiting 29 ports in 22 different countries. Among these countries are Palestine, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Malay Archipelago, the Philippines, China, Japan, Hawaii and back to New York via California, the Panama Canal and Havana.

Canada's first complete semi-streamlined air-conditioned train, built for the Canadian Pacific Railway, now in operation with four units in different parts of the Dominion, has been placed on inspection at a number of points across the country and has aroused high praise and enthusiasm on the part of the hundreds of thousands of Canadians who have seen it. In Montreal alone 60,000 spectators went through it in the four days it was on inspection at the Windsor station and the same interest was displayed everywhere else. These units will be in operation between Toronto and Detroit, Montreal and Quebec, and Edmonton and Calgary.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other delegates to the League of Nations Conference at Geneva sailed from Quebec in September in the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain. Accompanying the Premier was Hon. Rual Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate and Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor.

Captain George Gould, new skipper of the Empress of Russia, made his first trip as master of the vessel early in September. It is his first command of a Pacific Empress, though he has served the fleet in all official capacities from fourth officer to staff-captain during the past 23 years.

Last of three motor parties visiting Canada this year, 14 British automobilists arrived recently at Quebec on the Empress of Britain. The motorcade under the organizer Graham Lyons, drove from Quebec to Montreal and will visit Ottawa, Toronto, London, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington and New York.

Part Of National Life

Democracy Has Been Accepted In Britain For Two Centuries

It was fashionable a few years ago to speak of democracy as being "on trial." In many countries it is no longer on trial, but has been condemned and executed. In this country it is not, and never was (at any rate for the past couple of hundred years) on trial; it is part and parcel of our national life, and something which it behoves us to regard as no less permanent than Herr Hitler's "thousand-year regime." If anything is on trial it is rather dictatorship, for we have still to see what happens to it when the day comes to find the successors of the men whose personality had laid its stamp upon their creations. No country can depend on a perpetual supply of Hitlers and Mussolinis. In their default, will anybody care to say that dictatorship, relying as it does upon a very inflexible principle of personal leadership, is likely to prove any more stable than democracy?—London Morning Post.

Lighthouse Guides Motorists

Set up on one of the main highways, it has glass walls illuminated at night so that directions and distances inscribed thereon may be read from afar. Illuminated indicators have been placed at other crossroads commanding approaches to Leipzig.

Lord Baden-Powell Works Hard For Boy Scout Cause

The veteran in youth movements, Lord Baden-Powell, ably backed by Lady Baden-Powell, who is as keen on the Girl Guides as her husband is on the Boy Scouts, is indefatigable in his efforts for the cause. He went to Scotland to open the Aberdeen Scout's new luxury camping ground at Templars Park, Maryculter. With his encouragement, the boys have worked hard to make Maryculter House look very much as it did in the twelfth century, when it was inhabited by the Knights Templars who daily did their "good turns." The grey and red colors of the Knights Templars have been reproduced in the scheme, and the interior has been decorated so far as may be in true medieval style.

The Chief Scout is anxious, too, that all boys possible shall pass the necessary tests for the King's Scout Badge in time for the Coronation, because scouts are to sell the Coronation program prepared by King George's Jubilee Trust Fund.

Safety For Miners

Science Has Instruments To Detect Threatened Cave-In

Scientific ears, mechanical thermometers and giant stethoscopes will feel the pulse of mother earth in the future and give miners advance warning of impending cave-ins. J. V. Claypool, of Hibbing, Minn., told the National Safety Conference at Atlantic City, N.J.

Claypool, district superintendent of the Oliver Iron Mining Company, said detection of weak spots in the walls and roofs of mines was rapidly becoming an exact science. He told of a new "dynamometer prop" that records the earth's pressure against the mine's pillars much in the same manner as a thermometer records temperature. The device is built into one of the ceiling supports, and the slightest increase in pressure from above is recorded by a rise of a mercury column.

Another device utilizes a steel bar, fitted telescopically into a cylinder and held in place by a stout coil spring. When set against mine ceilings, compression of the spring is registered by a stylus that traces a line on a drum.

Clever Girl Now Does Buying For Busy Professional Men

A clever girl went about to offices in one city and asked busy professional men if she might bring goods to them in their offices so they could save time in making their selections of socks, ties, shirts, belts, handkerchiefs, etc. She secured all the facts about their needs, such as colors preferred and approximate price they wished to pay.

These men found this girl a good shopper; and with so little exertion they could get the brown tie they wanted to wear without their tan suit and the shirt that set it off. She showed them only articles in their own sizes, and she had even the correct shirt sleeve lengths when she brought the shirts for selection. The men found they saved money and much time by this method of shopping.—Christian Science Monitor.

Farmers From Czechoslovakia Will Settle Here Next Spring

In Winnipeg to study land settlement possibilities in Western Canada, Adolf Schmidt, secretary of the Central Farmers' Co-operative Association with headquarters in Prague, said 50 families will come to Canada next spring to settle on farms.

If good reports are sent back to Czechoslovakia, Mr. Schmidt said, other settlers will follow. The association has a membership of 10,000. The farmers who will come here next spring, he continued, will have a capital of from $1,000 to $5,000 per family.

Residents of Hines Creek, Alta., were still talking of the feat of endurance accomplished by a 78-year-old halfbreed woman. The entire trek was estimated at 35 miles.

Week-End Drinkers

Chicago Medical Authority Points To Perils Of Chronic Tipplers

Liquor takes its heaviest toll on the "week-end drinkers"—those persons who vary periodic alcoholic sprays with short rides on the "water wagon"—a Chicago medical authority declared at Kansas City.

That type of drinker, said Dr. Joseph A. Capps, professor of medicine at the University of Chicago, courts an eventual "mental breakdown" and suffers "loss of will power and confidence in himself during the process."

These testers are not so prone to dog the chronic tippler, who instead invites cirrhosis of the liver as the price for his indulgence, said Dr. Capps.

"Our danger is that we're becoming a nation of hard liquor drinkers. Over a period of years this is going to mean a decline in the health and mental integrity of our country," he declared.

"If young people must drink, the sensible thing is to use mild drinks (beer and wines) and keep away from hard liquor."

However, drinking may play a legitimate part in the lives of persons beyond middle age, the doctor said. "Work recently done by a Boston specialist goes to show that a small amount of spirits late in life tends to preserve the arteries."

Might Be Good Idea

Canadian Critic Thinks Novels Should Be Graded Like Eggs

"Great art never appears in advance of a public able to appreciate it," William Arthur Deacon, well-known Canadian critic, stated in an address at London, Ontario.

"If novels could be graded, like eggs, the reading public might be sure of spending their too-few reading hours with guaranteed articles," Mr. Deacon said. Unfortunately, in the realm of the aesthetic there are no standards and no honest critic can infallibly select literary "eggs" that can be warranted good.

Mr. Deacon impressed on his audience his belief that, as a critic, his opinions were not necessarily better than theirs. But he hoped, he said, to encourage them to increase the joys of their own reading by attaining a critical attitude towards what they read.

"When novels are pouring from the presses of the English-speaking world at a rate of approximately 20 a day, the most assiduous reader cannot hope to cover more than a small minority of them," the speaker said.

New Broadcasting Stations

The Canadian Radio Commission announced it expected a new 5,000-watt transmitting station at Lulu Island, B.C., and modern studios in the new Canadian National Railways hotel at Vancouver would be ready for operation early this winter. The studios, the commission said, will be the most up-to-date in Canada.

Would Be Great Boon

Britain Accepts Challenge

Race With Russia For Gold Output Has Started

For all of 1936 Soviet Russia is expected to produce about 6,000,000 ounces of gold. And because of its expansion program the Soviet Union is expected to be the world's largest gold producer by 1939. At present South Africa holds the title. British interests say that all of South Africa's mines are going full blast. They hope that by 1939 the gold producing title will be retained.

It is interesting to note that in 1928 the Soviet Union produced only 189,000 ounces of the precious metal. Last year the full output was 5,800,000 ounces. According to informed mining interests the rich deposits of gold ore in Siberia are still virgin territory. The British have accepted the challenge. And so the race for gold output is on.

Governments Agree Arms Embargo Does Not Include Gas Masks

Gas masks do not come under the heading of "war material," it was decided in London by the international committee that is attempting to supervise non-intervention in the Spanish civil war. The committee had before it more than a dozen replies from governments, all agreeing that gas masks should not be prohibited under the various arms embargoes now in force. Consequently the exportation of gas masks becomes legal hereafter to either side in the civil war.

Flying Life Of Wright Brothers Started As Hobby

The Wright brothers began their historic flying life as a pleasant hobby, flying all the books on flying they could get their hands on to see what others had done and then to reckon what they themselves could do in it. Making doubly certain of every step, refusing to be hurried, they first spent years in theoretical planning and reading before ready to put an engine into the latest of their gliders and make the first attempt at power-driven flight.

A Royal Privilege

Toronto Witnesses Allowed To Affirm Rather Than Take Oath
Rev. D. I. Ellison took advantage of a royal privilege granted to Presbyterians 300 years ago when he appeared in women's court at Toronto. The minister expressed a wish to affirm rather than take an oath on the Bible in a bigamy case in which he was called as a witness.

"A Presbyterian and not swear on the Bible?" exclaimed Magistrate Cowan.
Told of the royal privilege, Mr. Cowan said he had been a Presbyterian all his life and had never heard of it. He allowed the witness to affirm his intention of telling the truth.

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —
GEORGIA CRAIG

"What was there to do? I tossed a twenty-dollar bill to one of the attendants to see that he got into his car all right. Such caution was not worth soiling my hands over."

Pain tore at Starr's heart. His words were properly chosen, but there was something in his careless tone. What he really meant, it was quite plain to her, that her honor was not worth soiling his hands over. A twenty-dollar bill was nothing. Money smoothed his play-boy path wherever he went. An icy hand clutched at Starr's heart. For it was quite as plain to her that he expected his money to win her. In his own way, on his own terms.

Not for the world, though, would she have let him know she realized that. With a flash of her old bravado, she said flippantly:
"And what does that make me?"

Lance's black eyebrows lifted slightly, and he smiled, with a touch of indulgence.
"I hope it makes me your cavalier for the evening, at least," he said. His voice low, almost a whisper.

There was a wealth of meaning in his tone which lent his innocent words a deep significance.
Starr turned away from him with a wave of revulsion. Lance Marlowe was quick-eyed; he was skilled to the nuances of feminine emotion. He saw his mistake instantly, and his face darkened.

"I should have known better than to use my usual line on you," there was a touch of innocence in them. Then he shrugged. "I suppose you'll not be wanting to stay any longer—now—at least I can't bring you to your car, get your wrap for you, or something?"

Starr cried out almost in a panic. "No—no! Nothing! And I have no intention of running away from—from, any or you!"

But in spite of her defy, suddenly she was feeling from him. Anywhere to get away. She had said she meant to stay, but all she really wanted to do was to get away forever from this mad, glittering playtime world. It was not in any way what she had expected it would be. Living out her span in drab obscurity was better—a million times—than this!

Half blinded with the tears she was forcing back as she dashed up the balcony steps, she collided with something that stopped her flight. The strong, vital body of a man. A second her face was buried against the front of a starched shirt; then she looked up, dazed.

"Starr! For Heaven's sake! Where do you think you're going? Out to beat some kind of a record?"
Michael's hands were gripping her shoulders. Michael's face beamed down at her. He was so full of his own satisfaction that he did not even notice her agitation. He could take things lightly like that, make humorous remarks, laugh! when her heart was breaking!

Again she was conscious of the overpowering attraction of his presence, like an intoxicant in her blood, that sent it singing along through every vein in her body. She fought against it desperately. Why must it be like this?

Michael was so pleased that he almost hugged her. Yet his pleasure was simply that of a man who has just put over a good business deal. It was all in the head, not the heart. He grinned, standing off to look at her with his head cocked a little to one side.

"Pretty swell!" he commented.
"You are marvelous, Starr—superb! Everything is going just as we planned; better than we planned. You'll be the talk of the town tomorrow!"

The casual cockiness of the man! As long as his own was not hurt, what did he care the price a woman paid? But how could she know he was congratulating himself on his own perspicacity—and his luck!—at picking up a girl who hung out in La Luna and having her turn out like this, as if she had been used to people of this kind all her life? Or perhaps it was her training for her "racket"—that helped?

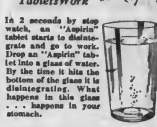

Starr's resentment raged again. Conflicting strangely with her storming emotions. She clenched her fists until the scarlet ran down into her palms. A cold, brittle voice came through her painted lips.
"I can't go through with it, Michael."

His jaw dropped, and he stared.
"Can't go through with it?" he echoed unbelievably. "But why?"

For QUICK Relief

If you suffer from headaches what you want is quick relief.

"Aspirin" tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly by their touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take an "Aspirin" tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And this is why it is so effective in relieving your headache.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

What's the matter? Has anything happened?

Suddenly it was he who was agitated. He saw his money-making scheme falling through because of the whim of a girl he should have known better than to have trusted in the first place. His hands tightened their grip on her shoulders, sending shooting sparks of fire through her soft flesh.

He said rapidly: "What's wrong, Starr? Haven't I done enough for you? Isn't the salary high enough? I'll raise it!"

Money! Was that all that men thought about? And this particular one probably thought she was trying to hold him up, now that he had confessed she was making good, better than he had hoped she would.

A deep, trembling sigh shook her whole body, only to be repressed. She realized only too well how hopeless it was to try to explain, to try to make him understand what this night had done to her. She had too plain a memory of the one or two occasions when she tentatively had tried to make him understand that she was not the kind of girl one usually picked up in place like La Luna. He had not believed her. She had known that. All he had seen in her was a good little actress who could carry out his plans, and he was thanking his lucky stars that sometime or other she had known what was called "the better things of life."

She withdrew before him, tense, searching face. Dusky lashes shadowed against her ivory cheeks, hiding her passion-filled eyes from him. "Money!" she repeated dully. "That's not the reason. I've changed my mind, that's all!"

"All?" A long moment he paused. When he spoke again a harsh note had crept into his voice. A note of contempt.
"I didn't know you were a quitter, Starr."

Her vivid face flashed up to meet his gaze. What he said stung her more than all that had gone before.
"So that's what you think of me?"

"What else do you expect me to think?" He shrugged, and a queer little quirk came around the corners of his mouth. "Or is it perhaps a more attractive proposition? He would!"

She glared at him, breathless in her instantaneous raging fury. (To Be Continued)

"And what is your name, my little man?"

"Henry, sir."

"Why did you parents name you Henry?"

"I'm the eighth, sir."

"Why has your husband been summoned?"

"I'm not quite sure, but I think a policeman sent up his hand and Jack put his foot on the exasperator!"

Opening His First Parliament

King Edward Will Be Speaking To Crowded House

King Edward will open the first parliament of his reign at Westminster November 3. He will drive in full state from Buckingham Palace to the House of Lords, and will read his speech from the throne to a chamber crowded with peers and nobles, and with the "Faithful Commons" in attendance.

The King will not wear a crown. The crown and the sword of state will be taken from St. James' Palace to the House of Lords in a state land guarded by an escort of life guards, and the cap of maintenance, the other emblem of royal power, will be carried in front of the King. Not until he has been crowned at Westminster Abbey in May will King Edward wear his crown.

If he follows the example of his father, who also opened his first parliament some time before his coronation, the King will wear full-dress naval uniform for his drive from the palace, and will don heavy robes of crimson velvet edged with gold for the ceremony in the Lords, putting on the cocked hat of an admiral when he comes to read the speech from the throne.

While he is at the House of Lords the King will carry out another ceremony of great constitutional importance. This is the signing of the royal declaration of Protestant faith, which the sovereign must make either at the opening of his first parliament or at his coronation, whichever comes first.

Another Boat Salvaged

German Battleship Taken From Scapa Flow To Shipyard in Vauxhall

The former German battleship Kaiserin, salvaged from the sea bed at Scapa Flow, completed her journey from the Orkneys to the ship-breaking yard at Rosyth Dockyard. She carried a crew of 14 men, who were accommodated in huts erected on the keel, and whose duties were to attend to the pumps which kept the hulk afloat.

Like the other vessels of the scuttled fleet which have been raised and taken to Rosyth, the Kaiserin made the passage up down, towed by three Dutch tugs—Edinburgh, Scotsman.

Employees Are Protected

Reduction In King Edward's Staff Will Be Gradual

Reorganization of the working of the royal estate at Sandringham has involved a reduction in staff but the King has given an assurance that no employee is to be discharged before he has obtained another job.

Much of the land formerly farmed by the King is to be split up and let to tenant farmers, and the forestry staff is being reduced. The farms retained are being further mechanized. Some of the men thus released are going to the flax factory on the royal estate, started by King George a few years ago.

The report that there will be a considerable reduction in the staff at Balmoral and that the castle is in future to be used purely as a shooting lodge is entirely without foundation. For the sake of efficiency some reorganization will be necessary, but this will in no way affect the King's close association with Deeside.

Seventy Varieties Of Maple

Sugar In Commercial Quantities Only Obtained From One

There are over 70 varieties of maple trees in the world, but only one of the seventy yields sugar in commercial quantities. This is the famous hard or sugar maple which grows in Canada from the Atlantic Ocean to the Lake of the Woods and in the eastern United States. Its beautiful leaf is the national emblem of the Dominion. About 95 per cent. of the maple products' industry in Canada is at present confined to the St. Lawrence River valley.

Flowers of the "Dutchman's pipe" catch pollen-laden insects and refuse to release them until the blossoms have been pollinated.

Little Helps For This Week

The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him, to all that call upon Him in truth. Psalm 145:18.
Be Thou O Rock of Ages nigh; So shall each murmuring thought be gone.
And grief and care and fear shall fly, As clouds before the mid-day sun.

Take courage and turn your troubles which are without remedy into material for spiritual progress. Often turn to the Lord who is watching you amid your labors and distractions. He sends you help and blesses your afflictions. This thought should enable you to bear your troubles patiently and gently, for love of Him who only allows you to be tried for your own good. Raise your heart constantly to God, seek His aid, and let the foundation stones of your consolation be your happiness in being His. All vexations and annoyances will be comparatively unimportant while you know you have a Friend who is such a Refuge.

Tribute To Boy Scouts

In the course of a tribute to the effectiveness of boy scout training during a discussion of juvenile delinquency at the world conference of Rotarians at Atlantic City, Dr. Amos O. Motorists who insist on their rights often get them. Only they're spelled "red-e-s", and slow music goes with them.

AIR CELL 'A' BATTERY

The quality of radio reception largely depends on your batteries. Ask for Eveready—and be sure!

IT IS AIR CELL that has made battery radio so immensely popular these days. Air Cell—the modern battery—does away with the necessity of re-charging.

Air Cell maintains itself by simply breathing air. It sounds like a miracle and it is indeed one of Science's great achievements. Best of all, peak power level is maintained for 1000 playing hours. No dwindling of power as in other batteries.

And Layerbilt! Well—everyone knows it is the super "B" battery. It is built in tightly-packed layers and gives far longer life than the old-fashioned round-cell types. Thus you don't have to change your "B" battery as often as formerly.

This year, Eveready has eliminated the terminal posts and given you one socket—this means only one connection for each "B" battery.

For perfect team work—Air Cell plus Layerbilt.

Local News

Mrs. Blair, of Aneroid, Sask., is visiting with her son, Dr. Blair and Mrs. Blair.

Mr. Romeo Rinaldi of the Palace and Orpheum theatres was a business visitor in Calgary this week.

After hauling water for 27 years, George Manning, farmer south of Rosetown, struck an ample flow at 106 feet on his farm.

Mrs. George Morgan entertained a number of ladies on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. Bush of Vancouver.

The marriage took place this week at the Holy Ghost church between Helen Trotz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trotz of Coleman and John Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vaughn of Blairmore.

St. Alban's Church

Trinity 20—The services next Sunday will be: 12.30 p.m. Sunday school, 7 p.m. evensong and sermon. Subject the Evangelization of Canadian Life.

The United Church

A group of Girl Guides with their leaders attended the morning service and joined with the regular congregation in the observance of the national thanksgiving. The attendance was very encouraging.

The Sunday school again registered an advance in attendance. There were ninety scholars and teachers present. It has been necessary to form a new class for boys in the junior grade. A teacher has already been found for them. The minister is acting as superintendent and has the older boys class. Boys from twelve to sixteen are invited to join this group.

The services for Sunday are at the usual hours. Morning at eleven and evening at seven. The school meets immediately after the morning service.

The quarterly communion service will be held on Nov. 1 at the morning service. All members and friends are asked to keep this in mind and to be present.

The managers ask that those who have not yet made their thank offering will do so as soon and as generously as possible.

Clothiers to The Whole Family

There is not a business but which can be helped by the use of advertising and printed matter. The man who is alive to opportunities and the advantages of rightly placed publicity does not have to be told—he already knows.

Counter Check Books may now be obtained through The Journal office, quality books at lowest current prices sold. Keep this in mind when you are asked for orders by out-of-town salesmen, and place your order locally.
